

THE SPREADING FIRE OF ANARCHY

“Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. For then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one consent.” Zephaniah 3:8-9

Firestorms of trouble among the nations are ablaze throughout the world today causing great distress in the hearts of many. Fire, as used in Scripture, is a fitting symbol of anarchy. It is a most destructive force, and there is nothing more destructive to society than anarchy. The prophetic description of anarchy is found in Ezekiel 38:21...

“Every Man’s Sword Against His Brother”

While this sad prophetic statement of final anarchy yet looms on the horizon of End Time prophecy, brushfires of anarchy are already flaring up around the world. Since 1998, in the Congo conflict, tragic loss of human life from tribal infighting is estimated to be 5.4 million. Rowanda, Kenya, Liberia, the Ivory Coast, Sierra Leone and Sudan’s Darfur are all crying for help. Even with international aid, however, the “fire” is spreading.

As the year 2008 began, we were exposed to horrific scenes of tribal conflict—even in postcard perfect Kenya. Currently in the news are smoldering conditions in Tibet and Burma. In Tibet, FOXNews reported scenes of panic as police killed an estimated 140 who were protesting control by the Chinese government. Burma is experiencing a repressive and destabilizing situation, as well. First Lady Laura Bush has been encouraging journalists to “get the story out” so that Burma’s leaders will know that the world is watching, and that “they can’t get away with terrible mistreatment of their citizens.”

Explosive conflicts such as these, bathed the entire last century with the blood of millions. Tragic scenes appeared in the media briefly but were soon replaced by our own personal crises or diversions. Few are prepared to keep these stories fresh in our minds, much less be able to do anything to help but remotely.

These struggles between the oppressors and the oppressed, the Scriptures warn, are but brushfires compared to what will eventually be world-wide anarchy. If it were not for the reassuring conclusion of Zephaniah’s prophecy, the student of Scripture could become paralyzed with fear. Luke 21:26 says of our time: “Men’s hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth.” But, thank God, there will be a glorious outcome.

WWI—A Turning Point in History

What brought about this significant, fiery change in international conflicts? World War I—The Great War of 1914—was a turning point in world history. It brought down the crowned heads of Europe and set in motion the breaking apart of colonized territories.

The Russian Revolution of 1917 was a benchmark of global change which evolved from The Great War. In addition, the imperialism that helped ignite World War I, also pressed African tribes and Eurasian ethnic communities together within artificial borders. The departure of imperial powers and the downfall of Soviet totalitarianism in Eurasia left behind powder kegs of resentment and mistrust ready to explode. And explode they did—Yugoslavia and Rwanda being just two examples. Previously, colonialism kept African tribes under its thumb. But as Britain, France, Belgium and Portugal fled Africa, artificially created neo-nations were left with new power bases, igniting tribal suspicions and rivalry. The results have been chaotic—and now anarchistic.

Former colonial and imperial powers will bear their share of responsibility for igniting the flames of anarchy. Adding to the complexity of social, political, economic and religious collapse is the culpability of corporate greed that has continued even until our present day. Multinational corporations are responsible for the mismanagement and selfish control of the world's resources and production. For example, the gold, copper and diamond-rich Congo is being pillaged while the profits earned never reach the native population. Congolese government leaders and their cohorts are kept well paid to achieve free reign for corporate exploits. (See New York Times, 4/28/08) A fiery day of reckoning is approaching. Yes, the LORD has good cause to be angry with the nations and will require justice on behalf of the innocents who have been victimized.

Common Elements Fanning the Flames of Anarchy

Education has led to demands for personal rights and liberties, adding fuel to these brushfires. Governments have tried in vain to hold the enlightened people in place, but the people have revolted. Without a government in place—whether good or bad—to maintain order, the fires of anarchy soon ignite.

This explosive trend continues to wreak unspeakable devastation on humanity. The war-revolution-anarchy pattern is driven by any number of common factors:

- ❖ Economic collapse, overpopulation, famine, poverty, disease or fear of these events;
- ❖ Social jealousies, civil wars, ethnic or tribal revenge;

- ❖ Religious zeal to gain converts, dominate or annihilate;
- ❖ Selfish ambitions by power-hungry individuals or factions.

The growing world food crisis alone is enough to ignite the flames of anarchy. CBS News recently reported the staggering growth of world hunger, which is fueling the unrest of unstable third world countries. Riots have been reported in Bangladesh, Egypt, Mauritania, Haiti, Mozambique, Senegal, Peru and even developed countries like Italy and Germany. What is driving these countries to the breaking point?

- Soaring petroleum prices increase the price of fertilizers, transportation and food processing.

- A rising demand for food sources in overpopulated China and India affect the fixed law of supply and demand in smaller countries.

- The rising need for raw materials to produce bio-fuels reduces the availability of grain as a food source.

- Natural disasters linked to climate change destroy the world's harvest.

- And the lack of interest on the part of food-rich countries sparks jealousy and rage among the poor and starving.

Much like the French Revolution, it was the mothers' cry for bread which brought about anarchy in the streets. The cry of the world's poor will be one of the driving forces behind the fulfillment of Zephaniah's prophecy.

These common elements which fuel the flames of anarchy have also given rise to terrorist activities throughout the world—religious, social, economic and political issues still being the root cause. The unfortunate fact is that unsolvable conflicts will continue to frustrate the nations and press many of earth's billions under the wheels of crushing war machines.

The Gathering of Nations

There have been pockets of anarchy among men since Cain's hand was against his brother Abel. So why have the past 100 years been any more remarkable to indicate that we are now at the time period of Zephaniah's prophecy? It is the gathering of nations that makes this prophetic statement quite unique to our time.

The world is interconnected—gathered—as never before in history. A global marketplace is further contributing to the instability of the social and financial fabric of nations large and small. The world's economies are now lined up like so many tottering dominos—any one could bring the others down. Investment giants such as Citibank are being bought out by the oil-rich United Arab Emirates, illustrating how even the growing credit crisis plays into the gathering of all nations.

Yes, God will “gather the nations” to pour out the “fire of His wrath.” And while all that sounds painful—there is hope. God has a plan which will bring healing! As Zephaniah prophesied, after the fire of that day, God “will turn to the people a pure language,” and they will call upon His name and “serve Him with one consent.” Mankind will learn to work side by side—“shoulder to shoulder” (NAS)—instead of fighting against one another. The “pure language”—Truth—will be given to those who have never heard of it before. And, because of the troubles they have experienced, they will now be ready to listen to God’s pure truth—untainted by the erroneous doctrines of men.

Elijah’s Climactic Vision

The Scriptures actually give us a model of the sequence that we have seen since World War I. When Elijah the prophet fled the death threat from his archenemy Jezebel, he escaped to Mount Horeb. (I Kings 19:1-12) There, the LORD produced an awesome display of power before His prophet Elijah—first a wind, then an earthquake, then fire, and, finally, a “still small voice.” That dramatic picture was a symbolic prophecy of the end time: winds of war; socio-political earthquakes or revolutions; and the fire of anarchy—all before the peaceable, still small voice of God’s Kingdom.

The past century has witnessed: the winds of war—two World Wars and numerous other wars echoing from these; earthquakes of revolution—more than half of the world’s population has been hit with revolutions and social upheavals; and several brushfires of anarchy—from the anarchistic genocide in Turkey in 1915 and hundreds of similar tragic scenarios since then. Yes, we are witnessing the progressive fulfillment of Elijah’s vision that will soon explode into world-wide anarchy. Thankfully we can see, through faith, Elijah’s prophetic vision of the peaceful “still small voice.”

After the Fire—A Purified Earth

As has been seen, the term fire as used in Zephaniah’s prophecy is not literal, but symbolic of God’s mighty power—destroying and removing the old structure of society to make way for the new. Who will make up this new society? Again, the prophet Zephaniah wrote that God will “turn to the people” the “pure language” of Truth—which indicates they did not have it before. “The people” referred to will be the untold billions of mankind who have never heard the “pure language.” These will begin to hear God’s Word as they are raised from their graves to a newly purified earth.

After these corrupting elements—political, financial, social and religious systems—are removed, resurrected mankind will see clearly the valuable lessons of the consequences of sin and selfishness. The Apostle Peter states that the “heavens shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt...” (2 Peter 3:7-13) These “heavens” and “elements” are not people—they are the oppressive systems that the selfish and power-hungry created.

The purpose of this apocalyptic fire at the return of Jesus is not to save a mere few and destroy the remainder along with the earth. The Scriptures say that the heavens retain Jesus until the times of restitution—the restoration of the majority of mankind to their Edenic-like home upon the earth. “...He [God] shall send Jesus Christ... whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets since the world began.” (Acts 3:20-22) This restitution of all things will include all that Adam—and all of his children—lost: perfect life and home on a perfect earth. “For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.” Matthew 18:11

The purpose of Jesus’ return, therefore, is not to destroy but to restore the earth in times of refreshing as is stated in Acts 3:19. Yes, this will be a time for refreshment and healing after more than 6,000 years of trouble. As Revelation describes these “times,” the “water of life” will proceed “out of the throne of God and the Lamb,” and the symbolical “leaves” will be for “the healing of the nations.” (Revelation 22:1-2) Then, “They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.” (Isaiah 11:9) This “knowledge” is the “pure language” of Zephaniah’s prophecy. Instead of the fire of anarchy—with every man’s hand being against his brother or neighbor—earth’s billions will serve God “shoulder to shoulder,” hand in hand, heart to heart.

“And behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake; and after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice.”
1 Kings 19:11, 12

VALUABLE BIBLE STUDY RESOURCES

What is this World Coming To?

Today's headlines were written over 2,000 years ago! This encouraging booklet reveals the outcome of present world troubles as outlined throughout prophecy. It examines Daniel Chapter 12 as it relates to the current stresses upon government, society, financial institutions, religion and the planet earth. Learn why God has been permitting His creation to experience the effects of selfishness, greed and pride. Mankind is standing at the threshold of lasting peace and economic security in a pollution-free earth. Discover this beautiful day which will follow the nighttime of sorrow and stress. (39 pages)

The thought-provoking Bible study guide,
What is this World Coming To?

is also available on our web site at:

www.biblestudents.com/booklets.html

Related Topic Past Issues of THE END TIMES BIBLE REPORT QUARTERLY

To learn more about the subject treated in this edition of The End Times, we recommend the following past issues:

- The War to End All Wars
- The War of Two Worlds

This and all of the fascinating topics we have covered in The End Times, are available to download free on our Web Site archives at:
www.biblestudents.com

The End Times Bible Report Quarterly is a Free Publication of

The Associated Bible Students of Central Ohio
P.O. Box 813, Westerville, Ohio 43086-0813
614/882-2126 or 888/77BIBLE

e-mail address: GospelPlan@aol.com

Call to subscribe or obtain free downloadable files at:

www.biblestudents.com

RETURN SERVICE REQUESTED

